

WE ARE Looking for You
READ THIS

To Parents, Relatives, and Friends:

We will search for missing persons in every part of the globe, before and as far as possible, assist wronged women and children, or anyone in difficulties, and we will give a home to the poor in St. Toronto, Ontario, "Inquiry" an envelope. One dollar should be sent with every case, where possible, to help defray expenses. In case of fire, send Photo-graph, $2.00 (Postage of Cut).

Officers, Soldiers, and Friends are requested to assist us by writing regularly through the Missing Column, and to note Col. Rees' Table to give information concerning any person always stating name and number of same.

INFORMATION URGENTLY WANTED.

of January 31st, 1912. Wife must be missed. Last heard from him in Brooklyn, Caledon, County, Nova Scotia, Canada.

WILLIAM ARTHUR ALLEN, last heard in Toronto. Has a brother in the old country.

WILLIAM HENRY GROVE, AUBREY

WILLIAMS, 5 ft. 6 in., dark brown hair, brown eyes, yellow skin, about 18½ years of age, and her husband, Mr. GROVE, GED.

Gib, about 18½ years of age, and her husband, Mr. GROVE, GED.

He was last heard from him in Montreal, Quebec, Canada.

WILLIAM EDWARD ALLEN, 35, complexion fair complexion, telegraph operator, last heard from him in Western Canada. Father now deceased.

WILLIAM MCDONALD JOHN, 21, dark hair, grey eyes, went to California, used to be a butcher, now a carpenter, now a

COUNSELS FOR LIFE.

He liveth long who liveth well;
All else is being flung away;
He liveth longest who can tell
Of true things truly done each day.

Be what thou seemest; live thy creed;
Hold up to earth the torch divine;
Be what thou prayest to be made;
Let the great Master's steps be thine.

Fill up each hour with what will last.
Use well the moments as they go;
The life above, when this is past,
Is the ripe fruit of life below.

Sow truth, if thou the truth wouldest receive;
Who goes the false shall reap the vain.

Upright and sound thy conscience keep;
From hollow words and deeds refrain.

Sow love, and taste its fruitage pure;
Sow, peace and reap its harvest bright;

Sow sunshine on the rock and moor,
And find a harvest home of light.

—H. Bonar.

MERCILESS WORLD SPIRIT.

"The world spirit is merciless and will have none of those who do not obey," said Archibald Wright, of Sydney, New South Wales, speaking at the recent meetings. "It seems to show that Christianity is the greatest corrective force to the desire for the flesh-pots of Egypt."

WHEN RELIGION GOES.

At the Presbyterian Congress in Toronto Dr. B. H. Taylor, of Montreal, pleaded with vigor and earnestness for the maintenance of family worship.

"We cannot," he said, "expect our children to be filled with the sense of the reality of God unless they see their parents making some sacrifice. When family worship is forgotten, then religion often goes with it."

NOT SO BAD AFTER ALL.

Writing of the prisoners' aid work at the Danesbury Settlement at Darjeeling, Lahore, T. G. O'Brien says, in the Indian "War Cry":

"An amusing story is told of one man, a murderer, who was offered a release upon his undertaking to come to the Danesbury Settlement. He wept over the prospect of losing his character and reputation, but eventually consented and found out such a respectable sort as he had imagined."

HIS BROTHER'S PENNY.
Incidents which occur in childhood sometimes have a very lasting influence for good in the after years of one's life.

It is well over forty years since two comrades who came to mind at this moment were boys together. They were brothers and to all appearance had good prospects of becoming useful men.

One day, one of the brothers was presented with a temperance pledge, which he was asked to sign. He balked at first, and his brother, who had already signed, began to fear that he would not take the step which he, (being the elder of the two) knew would help his brother in later years.

"Now, Ned," said he, "be a man and sign up. I tell you what, I'll give you a penny if you do. What do you say?"

The brother signed the pledge,

THE PRAYING LEAGUE

PRAYER TOPICS.

1. Pray for much blessing to attend the open-air work.
2. Pray for spiritual results to answer the needs in all the Corps.
3. Pray that the visiting of Officers and other Salvation visitors, League of Mercy Workers, and Sergeants, may be a great help and spiritual stimulus to all visited.
4. Pray that God's blessing, protection, and welfare, will bring success to the work of the "Praying League" and other periodicals.

BIBLE READINGS.

SUN., June 22.—Avenger. I Samuel 6:10-19; 7:3.

MON., June 23.—Reflecting the Word. Second Samuel 8:1-20.

TUES., June 24.—The Lost Asses. I Samuel 9:1-22.

WED., June 25.—Lord's Anointed. I Samuel 9:25-27; 10:1-9.

THURS., June 26.—God Save the King. I Samuel 10:17-26; 12:1-3.

FRI., June 27.—Only Okey God. I Samuel 12:25.

SAT., June 28.—The First Dowing words. I Samuel 13:1-14.

HEART-TO-HEART TALKS.

(By Mrs. Blanche Johnston.)

Oil for Every Day Lamps.

It will be helpful for us, to ever remember that there are certain defined lines along which the Salvation Army works in season and out of season.

Besides this there are many lines of work often entitled "special."

Perhaps in our prayer-life the danger in putting the emphasis upon the "special" needs rather than the "wholly-round" of duty. Singular or irregular events being brought more prominently before us.

Open-air Work.

We would in our talk this week briefly draw attention to four of the regular departments of the warfare.

Our daily news records will reveal the main points of the day unspun and cheered in discouragement, comforted in sorrow, and even saved from the ways of sin through the open-air work.

The little company of Salvationsists goes out in city, town, or village in half rain or sunshine, offering hope and their religious services and cheered in discouragement, comforted in sorrow, and even saved from the ways of sin through the open-air work.

The little company of Salvationsists goes out in city, town, or village in half rain or sunshine, offering hope and their religious services. Soldiers won't eat, let us never forget to uphold in loving prayer these faithful ones who lift their voices in earnest testimony and song upon the evening breeze.

The Regular Services.

Night after night they are held in large city Halls, with an ever-moving

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

and the penny was formally handed over. To-day he is a well-known Officer, holding the rank of Brigadier-General, and is a man, perhaps, he himself might say, of considerable influence.

He is a man who has been

&lt;p

Army Musicians & Singers

Wednesday night June 1st at the Band's usual practice, Brigadier Potter, the Band Leader, was welcomed home after his trip to the Old Land. After tea, Major Findlay, acting in the capacity of chairman, expressed the pleasure of the Bandmen in having their commanding officer back again, and reported briefly but favourably upon the Band's campings during his absence. Adjutant Hanigan, the Bandmaster, also spoke of the joy and his comrades had because of the Brigadier's safe return.

In reply, the Brigadier, whose remarks were, of necessity, brief, on account of pressing business elsewhere, said that he had heard some "big" Bands in England, and they played well, but we were doing all right! He spoke well of the International Staff Band, which, under Colonel Macmillan, had been maintaining a high reputation, in spite of the fact that you're more than ever characterizes the appearance of the Band—a fact which applies equally to our own organization. He had profited by the trip, but "East or West, Home is best."

The Voice is the highway of the soul: see that it does not become a blind alley! .

He told the Bandmen of a deepening interest in them. Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, who had also just returned from the Old Country, and was a guest of the Staff Bandmen on this occasion, closed the meeting with prayer.

It will be remembered that some months ago our esteemed friend, Dr. R. S. Conroy gave $30 to the Dovercourt Band fund, this being one dollar for each man who was on the march, says G. H. E. The Doctor has again manifested his sympathy with, and aid to, our Band. He said that he would regret his action as above, but did not tell the Bandmaster on what Sunday he would make his count. It was to be one Sunday in the month of May.

Bandmaster Palmer, who is always ready to grasp such opportunities, is proceeding to Band No. 12, where the Bandmen who could march forty men past the Doctor's residence, for since the first donation was received we have raised our Band membership to forty, with the result the Bandmaster received the following letter from the generous Doctor:

"Dear Sirs, please find cheque ($10) as promised. The music tonight was splendid. Wishing the Band every success yours truly, R. S. Conroy."

It must be said that in addition to this, the Doctor subscribers $1 per month as a subscription member.

We are still improving. We now have forty-one Bandmen, and still more waiting for instruments.

To help them with their Self-Denial target, a quartette of Farnie, P.C., Pupils, serenaded various persons in the city, and several 23 cent instruments were given away.

We entered a certain street (Major Bandmaster Rutherford), one of the Bandmen said: "There's no time of receiving anything down here." I replied: "Well, we can try. If we can only be a blessing to somebody, we shall be well gratified by our effort."

Major Ostby, of the Swedish Musical Department.

We had played only a few notes, when a woman, with tears in her eyes, came to the front door of her house.

"I should very much like to help you," she said to the Bandmen.

"You cannot do my son," but I am sure he is well attended, and the Bandmen and comrades responsible are doing well.

On a recent Thursday, we listened to two marches by the famous Chalk Farm Band, of London, Eng.—"The Wellers" and "The Liberator" and "Blowing River" marches, thus rendered, a treat.

Weekly musical meetings are being continued by Maxwell IV, says G. H. E. They are well attended, and the Bandmen and comrades responsible are doing well.

On a recent Thursday, we listened to two marches by the famous Chalk Farm Band, of London, Eng.—"The Wellers" and "The Liberator" and "Blowing River" marches, thus rendered, a treat.

Although without a commissioned Bandmaster, the Wetaskiwin Band is doing good service (says T. H.). The Bandmen are a persevering lot, and not easily daunted, when working under difficult circumstances. The Band has almost to a man, at every open-air and indoor meeting. We hope to send "The War Cry" a picture of our comrades very soon.

[Do by all means.—Ed.]

To the German Staff Band has allotted a hour of having the first section of our band and play in Austrian territory. The Band's correspondent, in writing of the Band's tour to Saxony, and of the crossing of the Austrian border, says—

"What a privilege! With mixed feelings we alight at the station of St. Thomas Band, get our instruments, and are most sympathetically received by the officials and the people generally. Here again the unexpected happens. The Government has given permission for the Band to play on the Market Square at 5:30 p.m., an opportunity we are not slow to avail ourselves of. In the afternoon, we are engaged in musical drill, and so prepared in musical array to the Square, where we find a huge crowd of several thousand people. How they listen! The culminating point, however, is when we play the 'Austrian' march with the National Hymn at the conclusion, and receive an Americanism, that struck all present.

On returning to the Hall, the Bandmen took tea with Major Morris, the Divisional Commander, who was visiting the Corps.

The Brantford Hospital authorities have written to the Brantford Bandmaster, stating that at a recent meeting held there, a number of funds were raised for the special visit of the Band to the Hospital grounds.

Band Colour-Sergeant Harris and Sister B. Diamond, of the Songster Brigade, were among the prize-winners in connection with our Self-Denial.

"Please find cheque ($10) as promised. The music tonight was splendid. Wishing the Band every success yours truly, R. S. Conroy."

It must be said that in addition to this, the Doctor subscribers $1 per month as a subscription member.

We are still improving. We now have forty-one Bandmen, and still more waiting for instruments.

To help them with their Self-Denial target, a quartette of Farnie, P.C., Pupils, serenaded various persons in the city, and several 23 cent instruments were given away.

We entered a certain street (Major Bandmaster Rutherford), one of the Bandmen said: "There's no time of receiving anything down here." I replied: "Well, we can try. If we can only be a blessing to somebody, we shall be well gratified by our effort."

Major Ostby, of the Swedish Musical Department.

Denial Effort, the chairman, receiving a life of our General, Sharman and her sister, Bandette, have been well the Old Land.

Denial Effort, the chairman, receiving a life of our General, Sharman and her sister, Bandette, have been well the Old Land.

FIRST DAYS IN THE FIELD

READERS OF "THE WAR CRY" MAY GREATLY HELP TO GIVE THE NEWLY-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS A GOOD START—BEGINNINGS ALWAYS SEEM MORE OR LESS DIFFICULT.

I—TO YOU.

THE train that brings this "War Cry" to your city or town will probably also bring your new Officer, Captain [REDACTED]. Eighty young men, braves of hope and promise, during the last eight months, have been trained with care and skill in Toronto, and are speedily across the wide plains to the assistance of the beloved [REDACTED] as Officers of the [REDACTED] tend.

The Sunday afternoon meetings were held in Library Hall, which was packed. Ex-Mayor Howe presided. The singing at these meetings was excellent, and the [REDACTED] of the [REDACTED] of the [REDACTED] to the audience. The [REDACTED] in charge of the [REDACTED] tended. At the close, the Thynne and Mr. G. Y. expressed their appreciation of [REDACTED].

Captain Besse Goodall and Wolster are the Captains [REDACTED] They have since farewelled. They, with Brother Scott, made excellent arrangements for the [REDACTED] of the [REDACTED] to serve you. Soldiers of the Salvation Army, Christian men and women, are the children of many prayers. Do not, we entreat you, cause even the least of them to stumble or turn aside. Their hearts are now set upon treasures whose great worth cannot be computed in earthly values. Lead them not into temptation. Help them to be faithful to their vows and to God, to whom you and they and we all owe our daily bread.

They come to serve you. Soldiers of the Salvation Army, Christian men and women, are the children of many prayers. Do not, we entreat you, cause even the least of them to stumble or turn aside. Their hearts are now set upon treasures whose great worth cannot be computed in earthly values. Lead them not into temptation. Help them to be faithful to their vows and to God, to whom you and they and we all owe our daily bread.

III.—TO THE NEW OFFICERS.

THE newly-commissioned Officers will permit us to say to them: Help your Officer and your comrades with a zeal and enthusiasm at least equal to that which has marked your stay in the College. Throw yourselves with all your powers into work. Great as will be your opportunity, may not all that you joyously anticipated. The world that would exactly please us in every respect—our own ideal world—would have to be specially made for us. But if the mountain will not come to Mahomet, Mahomet may go to the mountain, and you will act wisely to lay hold of your present opportunity with both hands earnestly. Difficult situations call forth greater powers than do the easy positions. "Character is formed in the storms of life." A life devoid of difficulties of fight is only for soft nobodies. Rather teach them clearly to see

VI.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO THE NEW OFFICERS.

THE newly-commissioned Officers will permit us to say to them: Help your Officer and your comrades with a zeal and enthusiasm at least equal to that which has marked your stay in the College. Throw yourselves with all your powers into work. Great as will be your opportunity, may not all that you joyously anticipated. The world that would exactly please us in every respect—our own ideal world—would have to be specially made for us. But if the mountain will not come to Mahomet, Mahomet may go to the mountain, and you will act wisely to lay hold of your present opportunity with both hands earnestly. Difficult situations call forth greater powers than do the easy positions. "Character is formed in the storms of life." A life devoid of difficulties of fight is only for soft nobodies. Rather teach them clearly to see

V.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

In the College there has been time to deal with first principles, and to start the Cadets in the way of acquiring for themselves the right kind of knowledge, the knowledge that

will help to make them wise in winning souls and tender hearts of the world's woes. But they are still at the beginning, and all beginnings seem difficult. Will you take trouble and patience to teach them? Will you encourage them? Will you as true comrades strengthen their hands in God? And will you faithfully lead them on to the acceptance of added responsibilities in the coming days?

Great is the power of personal example!

And the first love, the fiery zeal, of these young Officers is, in the sight of God, a tender and a priceless thing.

IV.—TO OLDER OFFICERS.

WE suggest to you, the older Officers, that these young comrades whom you will be receiving, have not yet completed their education—no more than you have or we. Do you therefore hold yourself responsible for continuing their training?

Staff Band at Oshawa

A Soul-Saving Week-end—Festival in a Park—Enthusiasm and Great Crowds.

There can be no doubt that the real joy of every Salvation Army meeting lies in its possibility of getting men and women converted, and when applied, the result of the Staff Bands' campaigns, then the joy may be seen and heard at its best. Last week-end (June 7th and 8th) when, for the fourth time, the Band visited Oshawa, Ontario, nine souls—all young men—were won to Christ. At the first Service on Saturday night, meeting, and the whole week-end was made memorable for its spiritual influence upon the visiting and local bandsmen.

In company with Brigadier Potter, the Band Leader, the Band arrived in town on Saturday afternoon, and immediately proceeded to the main street, where a preliminary march and selection were rendered to a great crowd of people. It was strange—sweetly strange—to hear above the roar of the traffic, and all the bustle of commercial affairs, the strains of Salvation music. No ordinary band could have held the people or lulled the city's noise as did our Band on that sunny afternoon.

As the music ceased, an old man stepped forward and said, "Give me a ticket," he said, referring to the festival which the Band was announced to give that night in the Citadel. Evidently one selection was not enough to satisfy his musical appetite, and he wanted more.

Music and Religion:
The crowd at the festival certainly broken unusual interest in the Band's visit. Mr. W. E. H. Sinclair, M.P.P., presided, and in course of his remarks, pointed out that the value of music was greatly enhanced when it was associated with religion.

The programme was a practical demonstration of the possibilities of Army music and song, and to spell, the audience went into raptures of delight.

Brigadier Carrigan, who, by the way, was in charge of Oshawa some seven years ago, led the Conservation meeting on Sunday morning, when Brigadier Potter brought tender feelings into the hearts of all as he spoke of his recent visit to the other Corps and the progress of the fold. Lieutenant Martin, who officiated during the week-end, also spoke. The Holiness meeting, in the hands of the Band Leader, was a "beginning at Jerusalem" time, and the Bandsmen united with the congregation in preparing for the Day of Pentecost. The Rod of the Old Land, Captain Durney, and the local Bandmaster gave testimonies, and Lieutenant Recs recited.

A bandstand in a private park belonging to the Mayor of the town (who presided) was the scene of a service of praise and thanksgiving. There were easily a thousand people present. The Mayor, Mr. Edmonson, was most happy in his references to "The Army, and gave the Stan Band the freedom of his grounds for any future occasion. A pleasing item of the service was a selection by a local band, which was an amateur and altogether praiseworthy organization of between sixteen and twenty pieces. Great credit for their present efficiency is due Lieutenant Martin.

The Citadel was crowded at night, and the band was much enjoyed.

Solemnly, prayerfully, and appealingly, the Band played, and Brigadier Potter's address found open hearts and attentive minds.

(Continued on Column 4)

LONDON DIVISION.

THE FIELD SECRETARY

Notes by "The Scribe."

At Lippincott Street, Toronto, Assistanted by Mrs. Gaskin and Staff-Captain Arnold.

Colonel and Mrs. Gaskin, assisted by Staff-Captain Arnold, conducted meetings at Lippincott Street Corps, Toronto, on Sunday, June 8th. It was a day of rich spiritual blessing, the addresses both the Colonel and Mrs. Gaskin inspiring people up side to side to God, and the singing of the Staff-Captain bringing a mellow feeling into the meetings.

In the morning the Colonel gave an enlightening talk on sanctification, showing that it was the will of God that all His people should have the enjoyment of this great blessing.

The afternoon was mainly given up to testimony. Among those who took part were Candidates Adeocoe and McNichol, who had just arrived from Bermuda. No set address was given by the Colonel, but a series of extracts from the various passages of Scripture which were very striking. The following incident made a deep impression:

At a certain place where he was speaking, a man complained to him that The Army was a disgrace to the town, as a few soldiers now and then came to the meetings, and the spirit in which they were spoken, stirred the Colonel, and hoots and boos are doing well."

Vancouver Wedding

Of Brother and Sister Sargent and the accompanying writer, a correspondent writes:

"They are both elevated Salvationists, taking advantage of every opportunity for work in the Corps to which a few soldiers now and then come. The spirit in which they were spoken, stirred the Colonel, and hoots and boos are doing well."

Two Officers of the Division have received the red band in recognition of their faithful service. They are now Captain B. Waldroff and Captain E. Maves. (Co gratulations.)

The following change has taken place: Captain Gibb and Lieutenant Alisworth have taken leave from the congregation in preparation for the opening of the Royal Roads of the Old Land. Captain Durney, and the local Bandmaster gave testimonies, and Lieutenant Recs recited.

A bandstand in a private park belonging to the Mayor of the town (who presided) was the scene of a service of praise and thanksgiving. There were easily a thousand people present. The Mayor, Mr. Edmonson, was most happy in his references to "The Army, and gave the Stan Band the freedom of his grounds for any future occasion. A pleasing item of the service was a selection by a local band, which was an amateur and altogether praiseworthy organization of between sixteen and twenty pieces. Great credit for their present efficiency is due Lieutenant Martin.

The Citadel was crowded at night, and the band was much enjoyed.

Solemnly, prayerfully, and appealingly, the Band played, and Brigadier Potter's address found open hearts and attentive minds.

(Continued on Column 4)

Commissioner Lamb

LEADS A SALVATION PAIGHT AT CALGARY

Assisted by Two Ladies: William Turner, Major McLean, Captain Tudge, Special.

Calgary, June 10.

Commissioner Lamb (Field Secretary) in command of the long journey, he was assisted by General Turner, Major McLean, Captain Tudge, Special.

The Holiness meeting was a great success. In the afternoon, General Turner, International Headquarters, in company with a party of ladies from Vancouver, had sufficient time to leave the train and spend in the meeting.

The morning the Colonel gave an enlightening talk on sanctification, showing that it was the will of God that all His people should have the enjoyment of this great blessing.

The afternoon was mainly given up to testimony. Among those who took part were Candidates Adeocoe and McNichol, who had just arrived from Bermuda. No set address was given by the Colonel, but a series of extracts from the various passages of Scripture which were very striking. The following incident made a deep impression:

At a certain place where he was speaking, a man complained to him that The Army was a disgrace to the town, as a few soldiers now and then came to the meetings, and the spirit in which they were spoken, stirred the Colonel, and hoots and boos are doing well."

The Band turned out forty in fine style, both in uniform and in dress, and the spirit in which they were spoken, stirred the Colonel, and hoots and boos are doing well."

Now I feel pretty certain that if you have tried, you have already

You Climbing Alone? Listen!

HOPE you are feeling better than when you read my last paper. If you have begun to sing along when you are alone, when you are about your work, or going along the road or across the fields, I should like you to look in the glass and see how you look, singing, for instance, "Te better on before."

To-day I was reading of a man who had to climb a huge chimney shaft to lower another man who had been poisoned by smoke fumes, and who was lying high up on the scaffold unconscious. What a lot of Christians, I'm afraid, are so far poisoned by some influence or other and lying as helpless as that poor steepie-jack in his imminent danger. No one man could have got him down. But the one who dared to do it was quickly able to get another to dare the effort with him.

By this time you have probably begun to see lots of beauties and advantages, all around you, which you did not notice at first. Even if you were the hardest case of all, and even still feel it is much harder than you expected to be, you are nevertheless pretty certain to have heard of plenty of others who have it much easier than you, or who, in some place or other, are far more comfortable than you.

They may not put it down to God's grace either; in fact, I am afraid there are very few places in this world where friendly people will not try to persuade a Salvationist not to do so much as to go so very far. "Not here, you know—it is not needed here."

Oh, that is the danger! Be sure you always ask God about the moment anybody, either by word or example, begins to influence you in the slackening direction.

"How will God like it?" is the question people should ask whenever they are thinking of any change in their habits, their home, their place of work, their clothing, or anything else about them. Oh, if they only did that, what sorrow they would escape, what dangers, what ruin!

Be sure you do not take the devil's advice to be a less hot Salvationist. Because you never may see a godless crowd around you now! If all the people where you now live attend on a Sunday evening; but under it all was a hungry soul that refused to be satisfied.

One memophilic Sunday evening, after a hard day's fight, I was leaving the Hall with a sad heart, shaking hands with a comrade, I said, "Oh, then I could have your joy!" The answer, so often given before, was:

"Why you have only to trust Jesus—take Him at His word." Passing out into the darkness, I passed the fair lights of the town, and, looking down the street, I just said, "Jesus I do trust Thee; here and now again I give myself up entirely to Thee—body, soul, and spirit. I beseech Thee dost accept me and dost deliver me now. If I am not worthy of thy love, and, if I am, I hold on in naked faith." I do trust Thee; here and now again I give myself up entirely to Thee—body, soul, and spirit. I beseech Thee dost accept me and dost deliver me now. If I am not worthy of thy love, and, if I am, I hold on in naked faith.

Early next morning, with the dawning of consciousness, came these words to my mind:

Not my own, but saved by Jesus. Who redeemed me by His blood. Gladly I accept the message. I belong to Christ the Lord.

I realized its truth as never before; His presence filled and flooded my soul with joy. All the yearning was satisfied; the darkness gone; I was free. No bird set at liberty could rejoice in its freedom more than did I in my freedom in Jesus and the words that faced me were, "If I the Son therefore shall make free, ye shall be free indeed."

I understood it all now.

Up to that time I had never had courage to sing or speak in public, nor had I ever asked for an opportunity of telling what the Lord had done for me. It cured my nervousness. When tempted in this way I claim His help, and conquer.

All the pride and vainglory I had in me was centred in Jesus. He filled my soul I became a happy soldier.

The change was so great that without my speaking a word at home, I heard my mother say she knew her daughter had come home.

(Continued on Page 12)

THE STAFF BAND

(Continued from Column 1)

"Fishing" by the Bradford Band, general, and a Major. The band piloted the prayer meeting, and the souls surrendered to the Cross. The great conference was most useful in praying and telling the story of their backsides.

Captain and Mrs. Beattie

Corps Officers, have done a great deal of good

in the prayer meeting.

Three young

women

came to the

Feeling-form.

pany, instead of flying from a safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

came to the Feeling-form.

pany,

instead of

flying

from a

safe

safety

in Christ. During

the prayer

meeting,

three young

women

NEWFOUNDLAND VISITING.

Fourteen-mile Walk at Midnight.

Adjutant A. Brown, of Gander, Nfld., recently visited Alexander Bay. He was accompanied by Captain Rodway, who sends us this information: Leaving Gander at 12.30 a.m., they had to walk three miles to the railway station, only to find that the train was two hours and a half late.

Arriving at Alexander Bay station, they had a walk of seven miles before reaching the Corps, where Captain Albion welcomed them. On Tuesday, the Adjutant conducted a lantern service in the hall. A good band was present, and the people greatly enjoyed the Adjutant's address.

Between midnight and two o'clock next morning (says the Captain) we were trudging along seven miles of muddy roads back to the station, having to stop frequently to shiver and wait for the train. We built a fire in the waiting room, and snatched a little sleep before the train arrived. We got back to Gander about 6.30 a.m., very weary, but very happy.

Brantford.

Major Miller visited us recently, and conducted interesting week-end meetings. Two souls came forward at our last meeting.

Old friends paid the Corps a visit on May 24th, coming from Flint, Mich., Ingersoll, St. Thomas, and Toronto Corps. On Saturday night the presentation of prizes for Self-Denial collecting took place, copies of the book "The Story of the War" to Recruit-Sergeant Wilcox, of the Young People, Sister Mrs. Cooper of the Soldiers, and others. Six Young People were awarded prizes for largest amounts over their targets. Our target of $575.00 was secured, and thus with $600.00 raised for the Mental Health Fund, $1,175.00 was secured in the Corps.

Nine recruits were enrolled recently, making fifty Soldiers, including transfers, added to our roll during the last seven months.

At a recent "Soldiers' meeting" conducted by the Divisional Commander, the officers and comrades present, including nearly all the Comrades and Bandsmen.

A local option campaign in this city has now been definitely decided upon, and at a recent meeting our Officer, Ensign Treleary, was asked to represent The Salvation Army on the nominating and executive committee.

A veteran Soldier of nearly ninety years, whom we realize is getting near the river, sat up in bed and gave a glowing testimony, after the Band had passed his way, and had played some cheering music.

Sarnia.

On Sunday night, June 1st, the farewell meeting of Lieutenant Whittaker was conducted. Several comrades spoke of the blessing the Lieutenant had been during her stay, and said how faithfully her work had been done. At the close of the meeting, one soul sought salvation.

Newmarket.

On Saturday night, as the open-air meeting was in progress, a man under the influence of liquor knelt at the drum head and prayed for mercy. He had a bottle of whisky in his pocket, and he threw it on the ground and it was smashed. The man was afterwards taken home by Candidate Kibbeyson. Good meetings on Sunday.

Bandsman Selver has been welcomed back to Sarnia from Regina.

THE WAR CRY.

News From the Field

Clarke Beach.

Our Self-Denial target is smashed, says J. Davis. During our Special Week of Prayer, we find Kuree-Week a great success.

The Kuree-Week, June 1st, was attended by the Rev. P. Wheeler, a visitor to the city. His testimony inspired the comrades. After the afternoon open-air meeting, the Band and Soldiers marched in the main street, and the Adjutant headed the Locals, attending a service in the city in a march through the main streets. Another open-air meeting was held, several ministers giving Gospel addresses and stirring testimonies. A mass meeting followed.

On Friday, May 30th, we had with us Adjutant Higgins, from Bay Roberts, and Captain Anthony from Port-de-Grave. The words of the Adjutant were of great benefit, and Captain Anthony's solo was appreciated.

Mussel Harbour Arm.

Adjutant Harding visited us recently. His addresses were greatly enjoyed. Captain Wells, our Officer, is rejoicing over the prospect of a new Hall, work upon which has been started. The Hall will seat three hundred persons. During the last few months, many souls have been saved, and one comrade has been added to the Roll.

Bridgetown.

On Thursday night, May 29th, we had Adjutant Smith of London with us, says E. C. His lantern service was much enjoyed. A most interesting feature was the dedication of Brother and Sister Hore's baby.

Captain Treasurer and Lieutenant Nutting conducted their farewell

Medicine Hat.

The Kuree-Week, June 1st, was attended by the Rev. P. Wheeler, a visitor to the city. His testimony inspired the comrades. After the afternoon open-air meeting, the Band and Soldiers marched in the main street, and the Adjutant headed the Locals, attending a service in the city in a march through the main streets. Another open-air meeting was held, several ministers giving Gospel addresses and stirring testimonies. A mass meeting followed.

At our evening meeting, the Rev. M. L. Jones read the lesson, and the Hon. W. H. Cushing also spoke. Two souls were saved.

Curling, Nfld.

On Sunday afternoon, June 1st, we went to Summer Side in a motor boat, where we conducted an open-air meeting. About forty persons were present. This is considered good, seeing that the fishermen are at the bottom of the sea.

At three o'clock, Rev. J. C. R. we returned to Winter Side, where we had another meeting.

St. Thomas.

Major and Mrs. Morris were here on Sunday, June 1st. In addition to the regular services, outdoor and in the Hall, says S. C. the Major met the Baudsmen over a cup of tea, and had a spiritual meeting with them afterward, in the Hall. The Major was also present with the June 21, 1915.

Rocky Harbour.

We were recently visited by Brigadier Morchen and Staff-Captain Cave. This was the Brigadier's first visit. On Saturday morning they left for Rocke Bay, going in Brigadier Alfred W. W. on motor boat. Several of the Locals accompanied the Brigadier. After a short stay we left again for Rocky Harbour. A gale was blowing, and after getting a distance of ten miles, we had to turn back to Rocke Bay and wait sometime for the tide to drop. We left again at 6 p.m. for Rocke Harbour, but even then the water came in in torrents, and we grew very cold, and were wet through. However, we arrived back safely.

Regina, Sask.

Week-end meetings, May 31st and June 1st, were held at the Adjutant's Scout Lodge. Large crowds stood around the open-air meetings in our Hall and the theatre was well attended, says R. J. E. In the afternoon, Brother Little read the lesson, and at night Brother Waller sang, followed by Swift Current. The Baudsmen sang the work of Brother Hague, singing five years in the Corps. We are sorry to lose him. Brother Lawson read the lesson, and at the close two souls sought salvation.

Bonnie Bay.

In a recent rally for self-denial, one came forward for salvation, says C. B. At night the more souls stepped into the fountain.

On the following Sunday we had a visit from Brigadier Morchen, accompanied by Staff-Captain Cave. The addresses of both the Brigadier and Staff-Captain were helpful and inspiring.

Last Sunday "The bakers" from

The Six Comrades Who Recently Spent Nine Hours in the Cells at Strathcona. Left to right: Corp Sergeant-Major Marsh, Colour-Sergeant Jones; Captain Crowell, Sergeant Large, Captain Chatterton, Drummer Wyman. These comrades were summoned for preaching on White Avenue and fined for causing an obstruction. They were released, however, after only nine hours imprisonment. Brothers marsh and Wyman are accepted Candidates.

Young People. We had a glorious finish, with three souls at the Cross. The alterations and additions to our building are expected to commence soon.

Bay Roberts.

On Sunday, June 1st, a number of the brothers and sisters farewell for a few months, they having to go away to earn their living.

One Self-Denial target of $500 was smashed. Envoy John Moore collected sixteen dollars.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green. The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The first services in the new Hall, which we have rented, were led by Envoy Laurence of Cobalt and Mr. Marsh, who travelled. A new platform has been erected. The Corps have two of the Soldiers. It was a pleasant surprise to our Officers: Captain Daniels and Lieutenant Cornell, who have received fare-well orders.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

Staff-Captain Bross and Captain Davis led a recent weekend's services. The open-air meeting on Sunday night was well attended. In the Hall, the Captain gave a talk to the Comrades, adding his trip to the Klondike. Sunday's meetings were much enjoyed, and the Captain's solos were deeply appreciated. There was a splendid attendance at night.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver, who was killed while pursuing burglars, were visited in their sorrow by Envoy John Marshall and Mrs. Brigadier Green.

Norland.

The widow and little children of a young conscript at Vancouver

WE ARE
Looking for You
READ THIS

To Parents, Relatives, and Friends:

We will search for missing persons in any part of the globe, beforehand, and as far as possible, assist wronged women and orphans, or any other object. Address: David M. REES, 20 Allan Street, Toronto, marked "Enquiry" on envelope. One Dollar should be sent with every case, to help defray expenses. Add $2.00 extra. (Price of Cut)

Officers, Soldiers, and Friends are requested to assist us by looking regularly at Missing Column, and to furnish Col-Ords if possible. Please keep us informed concerning any case, always stating name and number of same.

INFORMATION URGENTLY WANTED.

949 DAVIS
GARDNER, Age 22, height 5 ft. 7 in., hair light, about 40 hair, blue eyes, thin, slender, bald, weighs about 120 lbs., has a prominent nose and receding hair by trade, marks on two middle fingers, left hand, brought about by his occupation as a paperhanger. Has been living near Kansas City, Mo., since January 31st, 1912. Who most knows this man?

950 GOLDFEY, R. Age 29 years, medium height, dark hair, rather thick, left eye, 5 ft. 7 in., weight 160 lbs., last seen at England 8 years ago, now living in Canada, then residing in Brookfield, Caledon, County, Nova Scotia.

951 MCLEAN, ARCHIBALD. Last heard of in Toronto. Has a brother in the Army, who is being made from the Old Country.

952 THORNEYCROFT, ARTHUR. Age 21, height 5 ft. 7 in., dark brown hair, brown eyes, sailor complexion, married, wife 18 yrs., dark hair, 5 ft. 7 in., weight 160 lbs., last seen at York, Eng., then residing in Mr. Fox, Caledon, Ontario.

953 MCLEAN, SIR GEORGE. Girl about 18½ years of age and her brother George, 21 years old, last seen at York, Eng., then residing at 106 Park Street, Hamilton, Ontario.

954 BECKERWICH, JAMES EDWARD. Age 21, height 5 ft. 7 in., dark blue eyes, tall complexion, right shoulder deformed. Lost heard of when 16 years old.

955 MR. HALLIDAY. Nationality, age, height unknown, light red complexion, complexion broken skin, single as far known, occupation unknown, address unknown. Thought to be in the United States.

956 HANCOCK, ALEXANDER. Age 26, fair complexion, light hair, blue eyes, widow's peak, 5 ft. 7 in., last seen at Seattle, Wash., U.S.A., then supposed to be in British Columbia, Canada.

957 THOMAS, JAMES BELCHER. Age 21, fair complexion, light hair, blue eyes, widow's peak, 5 ft. 7 in., last seen at Vancouver, some time in 1911.

958 HOBSON, O. H. 1911, age 20, dark complexion, dark hair, blue eyes, widow's peak, 5 ft. 7 in., last seen at Vancouver, some time in 1911.

959 HOBSON, O. H. 1911, age 20, dark complexion, dark hair, blue eyes, widow's peak, 5 ft. 7 in., last seen at Vancouver, some time in 1911.

960 THOMSON, ROBERT. Age 31, dark complexion, dark hair, grey eyes, boilermaker by trade, has been living in Vancouver, some time past, working on the railroads.

961 JOHNSTON, MR. Born in 1877, 5 ft. 6 in., dark complexion, dark hair, grey eyes, boilermaker by trade, has been living in Vancouver, some time past, working on the railroads.

962 PRASAD, JOHN. Married, age 21, 5 ft. 6 in., dark brown hair, hazel eyes, widow's peak, 5 ft. 7 in., last seen at Vancouver, two years ago.

963 MITCHELL, ALICE. Age 22, height 5 ft. 4 in., dark complexion, dark hair, blue eyes, widow's peak, 5 ft. 4 in., last known address Bussells Alley, a railroad camp. Mother anxious for news.

We thank our comrade at St.

THE WAR CRY.
THE GENERAL TO VISIT CANADA

GENERAL W. BRAMWELL BOOTH will (D.V.) visit the Dominion during the first week of November next. According to present plans, he will conduct the Fall Congress in Toronto, and will also visit other large centres. Further particulars will be announced later.

THE CHIEF SECRETARY

Sarnia, June 16. (Wedding of Captain Weeks and Lieutenant Whitaker.)

Brampton, June 21 and 22. (Wedding of Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Chandler and West Toronto Band.)

MRS. COLONEL MAIDMENT

Whitby Farm, June 22. (Assisted by Mrs. Major Fraser.)

COLONEL AND MRS. GASKIN

Hamilton, June 28 and 29.

TEMPLE, July 3. (Wedding of Captain Best and Captain Reid.)

LT.-COLONEL REES.

(Assisted by Major Fraser.)

THE TERRITORIAL STAFF BAND.

Yorkville, June 22.

Hamilton L., June 28 and 29.

BRIGADIER TAYLOR

Dundas, June 16. (Wedding of Captain Hale and Lieutenant Nutting.)

Midland, June 19. (Bracebridge, June 20. Newmarket, June 21. Cobalt, June 23. North Bay, June 24. Dundas, June 26. Hamilton L., June 28 and 29.)

MAJOR CREIGHTON

Galt, June 17 and 22. (Whitby Farm, June 29.)

MAJOR MORRIS.

Windsor (Wedding), June 25.

ADJUTANT HABKIRK.

Belleisle, June 21 and 22.

ADJUTANT BLOSS.

Mimico, June 22.

ARMY SONGS

HOLINESS

Tunes—Come to my parson, 137. He lives, 148. Sing, 189. O Jesus, Saviour, Christ divine, 1. When shall I know and feel Thee more? Will thou a duster or a crew? To beg Thee make my heart Thy home, And keep me holy here.

What is there that I will not give To live Thee ever with me live— A conquering Christ within?

My life is Christ, and Christ is life, Drawn at Thy precious feet I lay, To be raptured from sin.

To the War! to the War! whell the war cry obey? 'Tis the great God who calls you to fight while 'tis day;

Though the battle be fierce and though mighty the foe, The Salvation Army to victory must go.

SALVATION.

4. There is a better world, they say, So say, so bright!

Where sin and woe are done away, Oh, so, bright!

And angels fill the balmy air, And angels with bright wings are there,

And harps of gold and munions fair, Oh, so, bright!

No clouds e'er pass along the sky, No clouds e'er pass along the sky,

Happy land! No tear-drops glisten in the eye, Happy land!

They drink the gushing streams of grace, And fane upon the Saviour's face,

Whose brightness fills the holy place, Happy land!

And though we sinners every one die!

And though our crown of peace is gone, Jesus died!

We may be cleansed from every stain,

We may be crowned with bliss again, And in that land of glory reign,

Oh, who in the name of Jehovah will go?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

(Continued from Page 8.)

causes they have responded, but who who goes too far or he who goes nought? He who risks nothing, wants wins, and heroes are still heroes if they give their lives for the cause they love. What would the world be without its enthusiasts?

Its enthusiasts—the men and women who were willing to risk everything, and be counted fools and branks; and fanatics?

We thank our comrade at St.

TERRITORIAL NEWS.

(Continued from Page 8.)

accident.—Mrs. Brigadier Taylor has been somewhat seriously ill with epiphyses for a week or more. It is now slowly recovering. Captain Forrester, of the Auto Corps, was run down by an auto and suffered injuries to a knee and an ankle. Captain Lloyd, of Winnipeg, has also met with some injury in an accident, as a result of which he has now to use a crutch. Captain Forrester, who is a member of the Territorial, is suffering from throat trouble, and must undergo an operation. Captain Lloyd Gates, we regret to say, is still very unwell—Mrs. Captain Parsons, of Chester, who has been in hospital for a few days, is now able to leave home again. The little boy of Captain and Mrs. Nicholls (whose new appointment is Interim) has been removed to hospital, suffering from pneumonia.

Adjutant Astle of Hamilton L., is having a fortnight before taking a new position as Ensign Patender of Wellington and Captain Harry Grange are also going on furlough.

Adjutant and Mrs. Kendall have been appointed to Hamilton L.; Adjutant Chaplin, late of London England, to Parliament Street, Toronto; Adjutant and Mrs. Alan Ritchie, to Woodstock; Ensign Alexander McLean, to Port Hope; Ensign Bertha Thompson and Captain Simmons to Hamilton III.; Captain and Mrs. Merritt to Victoria; Captain Beecroft to Sydney Mines; Ensign West and Pleiter, and Captain Benjamin Bourne have been transferred to the Welland Station, and appointed to Rockwood, Linton, and Portage la Prairie respectively.

Captain George of the London Rescue Home, is appointed to Grace Hospital, Winnipeg.

Captain McLean to Peck of the London Rescue Home, and appointed to London and Bloor Street (Toronto) Homes, respectively. Captain German, of London, also goes to Bloor Street, and Lieutenant Deacon of the Toronto Rescue Home, to Winnipeg.

Captain Gaskin, supported by Captain Cameron and Major Phillips, conducted a special session with the newly-commissioned Officers at the Training College on Tuesday morning. Following this, the Colonel met and thanked the new Captains and their wives, Captain and their Lieutenants, Adjutant and Mrs. Watson, of桂林, have been transferred to the Toronto Men's Metropole; Captain George Beckett, from Sussex, to assist at the St. John (X. B.) Metropole; Captain Thomas and Major Herbert Orsler, from Peterborough, to assist at the Men's Social Department; and the latter, in the Immigration Department. Following his marriage Captain Sydney Weeks will be appointed to Etobicoke. Captain and Mrs. Gould French from Galt and Captain Mercer, who has been at Wallerburg, take charge.

Adjutant Hattie Scott is appointed to assist Adjutant Andrew Kildonan Industrial Hospital, and Captain Arnold Missal to assist at the Calgary River Mine.

Ensign Oliver Mardall has been employed Salvation Army operations in connection with two others

—the Vancouver City and the Oceanside Prison Parade. His reports are encouraging.

Colonel Asia and his wife, representative of Salvation Army in the Island of Trinidad, are wanted for publication in the "War Cry." Their names and addresses should be addressed. The Editor of the "War Cry," Territorial, Hastings James and Albert Street, Toronto.

What are you Doing with your Heritage?

(See Page 21.)

THE WAR CRY.
AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE OF THE SALVATION ARMY IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND

Thirtyeth Year.

W. BRAMWELL BOOTH, General.

TORONTO, JUNE 28, 1913.

DAVID M. REES, Commissioner.

Price, Five Cents.

HOW a Salvation Army Officer Won a Thief for God.

(See "For the Corps' Sake" Page 2.)